2025 COMMUNITY & SOCIAL HEALTH SNAPSHOT

EAST BAY

Care beyond our walls

Serving communities around our Oakland and Richmond medical facilities.

At Kaiser Permanente, we believe your health matters, even if you're not our patient. That's why we reach beyond our medical center walls to improve health in the communities we serve. In 2025, we provided $4.2 million in grants and donations to community partners in our East Bay service area to address critical health needs. Here are examples of our support in action.

Food and nutrition security

We invested in the Berkeley Food Network, the largest direct food distribution program in Alameda County, serving more than 1,200 households each week. Through trusted community partnerships, the program delivers dignified, choice-based food assistance to help prevent hunger across the region.

> "Berkeley Food Network has lots of nice fruits and vegetables for us, and all of the people are wonderful and happy. It's just a wonderful place to come to, and then you meet people, too. You meet friends."

Access to care

Our grant to East Bay Asian Youth Center supported its operation of SHOP 55 Wellness Center at Oakland High School, Alameda County's most visited school-based health center. The center logs more than 6,800 student visits each year, offering integrated, trauma-informed services and comprehensive care.

Mental health

We supported Mentoring in Medicine & Science and its Mental Health First Aid trainings for 3 West Contra Costa high schools. The training prepares young people to recognize, respond to, and support peers facing mental health and substance use challenges.

> "After finishing the training, I felt prepared to help my peers with their mental wellbeing. It empowered me to care for the people around me."
