2025 COMMUNITY & SOCIAL HEALTH SNAPSHOT

GREATER SOUTHERN ALAMEDA AREA

Care beyond our walls

Serving communities around our San Leandro, Hayward, Union City, and Fremont medical facilities.

At Kaiser Permanente, we believe your health matters, even if you're not our patient. That's why we reach beyond our medical center walls to improve health in the communities we serve. In 2025, we provided $1.1M in grants and donations to community partners in our Greater Southern Alameda Area to address critical health needs. Here are examples of our support in action.

Access to care

Our funding of San Lorenzo Unified School District supported family services at the Wilma Chan Family Resource Center. Together with La Familia and Mandela Partners, the center provided free produce and wellness classes. It also helped people enroll in benefits and connect with critical resources.

> "Bringing food access, benefits enrollment, and wellness services together in one place at the Wilma Chan Family Resource Center makes it easier for families to get the support they need to thrive."
> – Amani Dunham, Student Services Coordinator, San Lorenzo Unified School District

Kaiser Permanente®

Food and nutrition security

Our grant to the Alameda County Community Food Bank supported expanding the distribution of fresh, nutritious produce to Southern Alameda County residents who struggle to afford enough healthy food. The food bank's Farm Fresh Produce Program benefits an estimated 400,000 residents each year, improving nutrition, health, and food security countywide.

Mental health

Close to 3,000 students received no-cost mental health services through our third-year grant to the New Haven Schools Foundation. Our funding provided culturally informed telehealth services and family education, improving access to care, well-being, and academic outcomes.

> Thanks to partners like Kaiser Permanente, we've expanded access to timely, culturally responsive mental health services for students, helping more young people and families get the support they need when they need it.
